Think Circular

About this report

This report provides an overview of our sustainability performance for our stakeholders to get insights into the impact of our business on the environment and society. The reporting period is the calendar year 2023 and unless specified otherwise, data presented encompasses Reverse Logistics GmbH entities located in Germany, Austria, Italy, Hungary, Poland, Romania, Canada, US, Latam (Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Mexico and Peru) and India.

This report reflects a materiality assessment that identifies and evaluates the key sustainability topics relevant to our business and stakeholders on a five-year time horizon into the future.

RLG is part of Reconomy Group, please see the Reconomy Group Sustainability report for a broader perspective of the actions undertaken group-wide.

Welcome Message

Dear reader,

I'm delighted to present our second public Sustainability Report, showcasing our ongoing commitment to sustainability and transparency. At RLG, sustainability is integral to our business and drives every service we offer. Guided by a business model that aims to maximize positive impacts, we believe that developing effective circular economy solutions enables society, environment and business to thrive.

We are in the business of addressing sustainability challenges and promoting a more circular approach to end-of-life products and materials. In the past year alone, we have achieved significant milestones. We have assisted several customers in improving efficiencies and meeting sustainability targets by integrating processes that enhance visibility, control, and impact.

In our own operations, our environmental footprint was third-party assured for the first time, enabling us to assess our progress against our baseline this year. We have also broadened our evaluation scope to include ethics, labor practices, and procurement strategies. In our first assessment covering these areas, we were awarded a Silver Medal, positioning us ahead of 87% of companies assessed by EcoVadis.

Moving forward, we remain committed to achieving our interim targets for 2028 within our own operations, while also collaborating with our stakeholders to enhance global environmental performance.

Patrick Wiedemann
Chief Executive Officer

I WANT TO THANK ALL OUR COLLEAGUES FOR THEIR DEDICATION TO OUR WORK AND SUSTAINABILITY. I'M LOOKING FORWARD TO ANOTHER YEAR OF MAKING PROGRESS TOWARDS OUR GOAL OF ADVANCING CIRCULAR PRACTICES.

Circular take-back

At RLG, we leverage our global market knowledge and specialist services to ensure total compliance with complex environmental legislation in every country. From registration to reporting, we uphold regulatory standards, contributing to overall environmental sustainability.

We simplify compliance reporting processes and provide data insights to empower our customers to make impactful changes in creating more sustainable packaging, maximizing current and potential opportunities.

We design and operate successful deposit return systems, offering comprehensive support from setup to operation management. This facilitates efficient resource management, reduces waste generation, and promotes recycling.

Our consultancy services assist global businesses in addressing sustainability challenges, including legislation review, specialist impact assessments for Extended Producer Responsibility, environmental impact analysis, waste auditing, and ISO environmental management. We ensure compliance and identify opportunities for improvement.

We facilitate safe recycling and waste handling through our circular take-back services, putting materials back into the recycling loop. This approach improves recycling rates and promotes sustainable waste management practices, contributing to a circular economy.

Our approach to Sustainability

At the core of our work is the promotion of a circular economy and therefore integrating sustainability ambitions, targets and data into our business strategy is integral to our growth.

We monitor and assess progress on these topics using specific objectives, targets, and key performance indicators (KPIs) that are reported annually in our sustainability report. The year 2022 serves as the baseline for measuring progress.

Annexes

Stakeholder engagement:

Continuous engagement with stakeholders goes beyond risk management. Partner collaboration helps us develop inclusive, sustainable business models that address global challenges and drive positive impact.

Investors:

We conduct quarterly briefings with Reconomy Group's owners to maintain profitability and responsibility.

Customers:

We regularly interact with clients to foster innovative project development and enhance service delivery. We participate in seminars and conferences, and engage with our customers through meetings and workshops, proactively communicating and promptly responding to their questions and concerns about environmental services and impacts.

Suppliers:

We collaborate closely with suppliers to meet RLG's and customers' standards for quality, safety, and efficiency. Our supplier policy guides our supplier assessments, ensuring the network's alignment with our sustainability goals.

Employees:

We conduct satisfaction surveys and host townhall meetings to engage our workforce.

Communities:

We work closely with communities and NGOs to ensure the effectiveness and impact of our programs.

Regulators and policy makers:

We engage proactively to comply with and advocate for circular economy initiatives.

Materiality Assessment:

Our materiality process involved three key steps: identifying, prioritizing, and validating topics. In 2021, we compiled a list of issues and had external experts evaluate it. Throughout this process, we engaged with stakeholders including customers, senior management, employees, investors, trade associations, regulators, and rating agencies.

The top material issues, identified by both internal and external stakeholders, are as follows:

	Health and wellbeing
	Water stewardship
	Net zero carbon / Renewable energy / Zero carbon from services
	Ethical business
	Natural resource management / Zero environmental harm from services
	Fair employment
	Diversity and inclusion
	Net zero environmental harm
	Living wage
	Circular economy, zero waste and repurposed products
	Social values
